A large collection of Greek postage stamps is displayed on a white background. The stamps are arranged in a grid-like fashion, showing a variety of denominations and designs. Some stamps feature portraits of historical figures, while others depict mythological scenes, landscapes, and symbols of Greek culture. The word "ΕΛΛΑΣ" (Greece) is visible on many of the stamps. The collection includes stamps from different eras, with some showing postmarks and cancellation marks. The denominations range from small values like 100 and 200 to larger ones like 1000 and 2000. The designs are diverse, including classical art, modern abstract patterns, and religious imagery. The stamps are mounted on a white card, which is placed on a dark surface.
