A large collection of Italian postage stamps is displayed on a dark background. The stamps are arranged in several rows. The top row includes a stamp with the word "Italien" written on it, and a stamp featuring a map of Italy with the word "NAPOLI". The middle section shows a variety of stamps, including a stamp with the text "LAVORO ITALIANO PER IL MONDO" and a stamp with the text "CAMPIONATI DEL MONDO DI BRIDGE VERONA 2006". The bottom section features a series of stamps with handwritten numbers next to them: 933, 965, 986, 1082, 1083, 1084, 1085, 1087, 1088, and 1089. The stamps themselves depict various themes, including portraits of historical figures, architectural structures, and cultural symbols.
