The image shows a collection of postage stamps. The top section features a large group of Japanese stamps, many of which are cancelled with circular postmarks. These stamps are arranged in a grid-like fashion on a dark background. A small white label with the word "Japan" is placed at the top left of this group. Below the Japanese stamps, there is a row of seven Dutch East Indies stamps, each with a different design and value (1, 2, 5 cents). A small white label with the words "Nieder. Indien" is placed to the left of this row.
